TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[REPORTED FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

From the West—The Enemy Repulsed at Vicksburg—Rumors, &c.

VICKSBURG, May 23d.—Special reporter of the Advertiser. Yesterday, at Jackson 22nd, says heavy firing was heard in the direction of Vicksburg, this morning. It is generally believed in official circles that the enemy assaulted our works at Vicksburg on Wednesday and were repulsed. Snyder's Bluff has been evacuated. A gunboat reports Yazoo City captured on yesterday by the rebels. Navy Yard burned by our men. Officers from Memphis reports Grant whipped back.

CAIRO, May 23.—The enemy have made three desperate assaults on Vicksburg and been repulsed. There is some official confirmation of the capture of Helena by Price. A Jackson correspondent, 19th, says Johnston this morning received 12,000 men over Big Black to the Vicksburg. Gen. Gardner is reported in Mobile that Snyder's Bluff had been occupied. Occupation of Yazoo City by Federals confirmed.

From the North--The New York Press on the Vallandigham "Protest" Meeting--Paper Stationary, &c.

BOSTON, May 22.—Northern dates to the 20th have been received, but the news is unimportant. The New York Herald says the late meeting was a ridiculous demonstration. The Herald treats it as the first note of discord. The World says it was successful both in numbers and enthusiasm, and speaks of bloodshed on North-ern soil.

A Washington dispatch to the Evening Post says there will be no movement on the Potomac for some time to come. Hooker has been left to follow his own plans. A Yankee dispatch says that Vicksburg will soon be taken. A Cincinnati dispatch says an invasion of Kentucky is threatened. Gold 49¾ and 49¼.

From Mississippi.

MEMPHIS, May 23.—Grant entered the State of Mississippi crossing the river five miles below Grand Gulf, sixty thousand thousand strong, with a heavy force of artillery. He had received no reinforcements from Louisiana. He had receives constantly from the West bank of the river. His transportation is all on the river, and he must keep to the river bank.

Johnston evacuated Grand Gulf, falling back towards Jackson and followed the enemy who entered Jackson, fifty thousand strong on the 14th. Gen. Johnston reached Canton on the 14th, but fell back to Canton. The Yankees retired on finding Johnston there. They committed depredations for two days, burning Churches and private houses, and pillaring jewelry from citizens, and guiting residences. They fled towards Vicksburg on the 1 th, followed by Johnston. They are constantly receiving reinforcements. Vicksburg has five months supplies of every kind, and can be taken only by hungry Yanks. The reported capture of Alexandria is not credited.

From the Blackwater.

CAMP 41ST REGIMENT N. C. T., May 21, 1863.

DAILY PROGRESS:—The force of the enemy that advanced from Suffolk towards Franklin on last Friday have retreated back to the former place, and I think we have something like a quiet here. General Corse had a sharp skirmish with them on Saturday, in which he beat them back with heavy loss to their breastworks. But finding their force vast'y superior to his own, and anticipating a flank movement which they were endeavoring to make by way of South Quay, a crossing seven miles below Franklin on the Blackwater, he fell back to his former defences on Monday morning. Feeling the effects of the blow they got them on Saturday, they made no further demonstrations, but availed themselves of the first opportunity to make their way back to Suffolk.

A detachment of our regiment, some fifty in number, had a brilliant skirmish with about eighty of the enemy's cavalry, near Zuni Station, on the Norfolk and Petersburg Railroad, last Sunday evening, in which Lt. Wiggins, of Co. D, and one man were killed.

It seems that the Yankees, having stolen upon our post where Lieut. W. had seven men on picket, were successful in capturing all but one, who made good his escape, and with all possible dispatch reported the circumstance to Lieut W.; when he immediately took with him some fifty picked men and went out in pursuit of the Yankees, who, by this time, were making their way back to Suffolk. By a vigorous march he very soon overtook them without their being aware of his pursuit. Ordering his men to draw sabre, he dashed into their surprised and frightened ranks, killing eight men, two Lieutenants and the Captain, and capturing twenty-six prisoners, including horses and equipments, besides recapturing his own men. But in the affair this gallant young officer lost his life, the men say fighting like a desperado, and faltering only when he received a death wound, which felled him from his horse a corpse.

Yours, &c., W. D. H.

Substitutes and Substitute Agents.

We have always contended that substitutes were a great element of weakness in our army, and we honestly believe that they have done more to damage our cause, by demoralizing the army, than anything else. And those skunks that are to be found in every community who call themselves substitute agents, are another curse to the army and the people. We see no good use that they could be put to unless the authorities have them gathered up and set to work, under guard, on the fortifications. The following from the Savannah Republican is but a truthful picture of how these birds of prey skin and rob their victims:

Here's another story: Private ——, of Co. I, 32d Geo. Regiment, applied to a certain white man speculator—who n we will call, for the present, Old Sapp—of Savannah, for a substitute. Old Sapp, after a little haggling-very interestingly, presented said private to him as a man, who came well recommended—was passably good looking for an Irishman, was examined by the surgeon and found sound and fit for military duty. After a long and tedious task, Old Sapp succeeded in forcing him upon the good feelings of our beloved Colonel, who hes.tated long before he could obtain his own consent to receive him, but at length was induced by a certain individual—whom we will call Gen. Fizzleout—of Savannah, to do so.

When the private came to pay down the money, two thousand dollars, (the price of a good negro) went to the substitute, five hundred dollars into the hands of the Colonel, as an indemnity against desertion, and one thousand dollars to Old Sapp. Old Sapp left camp that night with a pocket full of ill-gotten gains—the substitute next morning with a black heart, and the private on the evening train with an empty pocket, and a swindled government. What do you think of that?

This is the second case of the kind that has occurred in this regiment this week. I will give five cents for the delivery of the substitute and two hundred dollars for sufficient evidence to send Old Sapp to the Penitentiary. The private and Gen. Fizzleout I will leave to their own reflections.

THE "HERALD'S" CAMPAIGN PROGRAMME.—Under the heading of "News from the Southwest—The Great Struggle in Mississippi," the Herald says:

Grant at last accounts was awaiting reinforcements, which were moving to his support, from various points along the river from Memphis to Baton Rouge. The Herald says that Vicksburg is an important point, and with it they can hold the river from Cairo to the Gulf with gunboats. The Rebels have withdrawn every available man for its defence from Mobile, Savannah, and Charleston. It says Grant's movements are so conducted as to prevent any possible concentration of troops to save Vicksburg. Grierson's raid has lately considerably weakened Pemberton. Now is the time for another advance of the "Grand Army of the Potomac," for another attack upon Charleston and Savannah, for land reconnoissance around Mobile, for an advance by Burnside into East Tennessee, and for active work by Rosecrans, so as to save Vicksburg, and to prevent concentration by the rebels at any other point. The rebels in every quarter should be given instant employment, With Alexandria on the west side in our possesion, and Vicksburg on the east, the talk of reducing the rest of the rebellious States will be an easy matter. It hopes soon to hear of the fall of Port Hudson by the land and naval force to be sent against it. The whole campaign in the Southwest since Grant's movements below Vicksburg has progressed admirably. It expects soon to hear of a victory that will compensate for the humbugging attack on Charleston and the inexplicable retreat of Hooker.

REWARDS.

COWS STRAYED OR STOLEN—$10 REWARD.

STRAYED OR STOLEN FROM MY PREMISES IN Raleigh, two COWS, one red and the other black, both about five years old. The ear marks are, smooth crop in the right ear and crop and hole in the left. The Cows were brought from Lenoir county, and may be making their way back. They left about the middle of last week. I will give Ten Dollars for the return of both, or Five for either.

May 13-tf ROBERT H. ROUNTREE.

100 DOLLARS REWARD.

RUNAWAY FROM CHAMBERS COUNTY, ALABAMA, Jan. 27th, a negro man named BURT, about thirty years old, six feet one inch high, two middle fingers crisped from a burn. He has a pass and was detected on the N. C. Railroad on the 16th inst. making his way to Raleigh, and jumped off at or near McLean's station. The above reward will be given if delivered to me or confined so I get him. Address me at Cusseta, Ala.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DESIRABLE INVESTMENT IN TEXAS LANDS.

ONE-HALF OF THE

JUSTO LIENDO TRACT.

THIS TRACT OF DESIRABLE LANDS WAS SELECTED for his home site many years since, by Col. M. B. Menard, who was an extensive land owner in Texas, and one of the leading founders of the city of Galveston. The property has never passed out of his family, since its purchase by him, and one-half of it only is now offered for sale for a change of investment, and will be sold in parcels of one-fourth of a league, or 1,100 acres each.

It is situated in Milan county, within the

about 45 miles North-Eastward from the Capital of the State, and about 55 miles Northwestwardly from Brenham, the present terminus of Railroad communication with Galveston and Houston.

The tract is divided in two nearly equal parts by Brushy Creek, (emptying into San Gabriel river,) and comprises an admirable combination of lands for agricultural and pastural pursuits. High and dry post oak lands, filled with fencing materials;

ROLLING PRAIRIE, WITH

commanding a view of the entire tract;

RICH TIMBERED BOTTOM

on both sides of the Creek, rising from there to a fine prairie covered with mesquite grass (not the bearded) and which extends uninteruptedly to the banks of the San Gabriel, from 12 to 15 miles distant.

UNSURPASSED FOR GRAZING PURPOSES,

This region of country is not surpassed by any in Texas, in

REGULARITY OF SEASONS,

DELIGHTFUL CLIMATE AND

and the tract itself forms one of the best investments for present use or future profit to be found in Texas,

THE LAND OF PROMISE AND OF PEACE.

During the dry year of 1860 in Texas, Mr. Conolly's farm, (on a portion of the tract,) yielded an average of 50 bushels of corn, and 15 bushels of wheat to the acre. There are numerous flouring mills in Milan, and the adjoining counties of Bell and Williamson.

All the small grains grow well, cotton yields one bale to the acre, horses, mules, sheep, hogs and and are largely raised throughout the region. The titles to the land have never been questioned, and are unquestionable, and there are no squatters on it. The settled portion of the State extends far beyond Milan county, in every direction.

HORNED CATTLE THRIVE

The property now belongs to J. S. Thrasher, Superintendant of the Press Association, and one-half of it is offered for sale, only because the acceptance of the duties of his public position involves the necessity of a partial change in his investments.

It is offered at private sale until the 7th day of August, when if not disposed of, it will be sold at public auction, without reserve, for cash, in Confederate Treasury notes in the city of Atlanta.

For further information, and plan of tract apply to

Chief Recruiting Office,
2nd CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT,
Salisbury, N. C., May 11, 1863.

To all the officers of the several regiments of North Carolina Militia in the 8th Congressional District:

OBEDIENCE TO "SPECIAL ORDERS, NO. 426," heretofore suspended, to which your particular attention is called, I hereby request you to send to camp immediately, all hands who are within the ages of eighteen and forty, employed within the bounds of your regiment in getting camp fire and cord-wood for the various railroads. You will collect, enroll and send to camp all conscripts not on detail, in the bounds of your regiments, whether they are employed or not. Track hands, not employed in their proper and peculiar business, but getting camp fire and cord-wood, will be sent to camp. You will also promptly report to me the names of all conscripts sent to camp under this order.

Any delay or negligence in the execution of this request will be promptly reported to Gen. D. G. Fowle, Adj't. General of the N. C. Militia.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

MONDAY, MAY 25, 1863.

ADVANCE IN OUR TERMS.

When we commenced the publication of the PROGRESS here in November, we got paper at 25 cents per pound and fixed our prices accordingly, but now we pay 50 cents a pound for paper, while ink, labor, telegraph news, and everything else has advanced from 50 to 100 per cent.—For these reasons we are compelled to make a slight advance in our terms of subscription to enable us to meet the heavy expenses of publication and support those dependent on us. If paper falls in price we shall fall; but if, on the other hand, it continues to go up, we shall have to go up or suspend, and we cannot think the public would submit to that.

On and after the 1st day of June, 1863, the price of subscription will be as follows:

Daily Progress	One year - - -	$10 00
" "	Six months - -	6 00
" "	Three months -	4 00
" "	One month - -	1 50

Until the 1st of June subscriptions will be received at the present terms.

Agents and newsdealers will be furnished at the old rates.

The News.

We have nothing later from Mississippi than the gloomy dispatch which emenated from Mobile on the 21st. This information, some of the Richmond papers tell us, is not credited by the Government, and they add that the War Department has nothing later than Gen. Johnston's dispatch of the 18th, giving an account of the engagement that Pemberton had with the enemy at Edwards' Depot, and the falling back of our forces. The Examiner takes a hopeful view of affairs in Mississippi, and expresses the belief that all will yet be well and that Vicksburg will be held. We are not altogether so sanguine but still hope for the best. Surely this is no time for despondency, nor should our people become disheartened or give way to gloomy forebodings. We have had reverses before, but they have been followed by brilliant victories which have eclipsed and obscured them, and such results will follow our exertions again if every man but do his duty. Let come what will—the fall of Vicksburg, of Charleston, of Richmond, any or all of them—we have but to fight on until the invader will consent to some settlement of existing troubles that will be honorable to our section and our arms.

Should additional news be received from the West before going to press it will be given in its appropriate place.

Considerable excitement was caused in this city on Saturday by rumors of an advance on Kinston and skirmishing at Gum Swamp, nine or ten miles below that place. In another column we give, from our vigilant Goldsboro' and Kinston correspondents, all the particulars of the affair that could be obtained. It seems that five or six regiments of Yankees advanced on our picket station at Gum Swamp, on Friday, or possibly on Thursday night, and that before our forces were aware of their presence, they were surrounded. Our force at that place consisted of the 25th and 56th Regiments, Ransom's Brigade, and when they found the enemy in their front and rear they fled for safety and came into Kinston by companies and squads. Judging from the letter of our Kinston correspondent it was a perfect rout. As soon as Gen. Hill was advised of the advance, however, that vigilant officer ordered down a sufficient force to drive the enemy back, and at last accounts he was pursuing them. We had a number of men wounded and some killed, and the missing are variously estimated at from fifty to one hundred and fifty. This Gum Swamp picket station seems to be an unlucky place for us—we are not prepared to say that there has been any bad management. We have no idea that the enemy contemplated anything like an advance. It was only a raid, but we fear rather a serious one for us. It is said the enemy were piloted to the rear of our forces by a negro.

Our advices represent everything as quiet on the Rappahannock and along the Blackwater. In fact everything seems to be stationary in Virginia since the recent great victory to our arms. We hear mysterious rumors of movements soon to take place but prefer not to mention them yet.

There is nothing in the general situation of affairs to cause despair or despondency, and we admonish our people that all gloomy speculations and despondent surmises are out of place and injurious to our cause. Let every man do his duty, in the army and out of it; let us mass our troops and fight the enemy, with a firm reliance that the right will prevail and that in the end all will be well.

Northern dates of the 20th give us the comments of the Northern press on the recent demonstration in New York. The meeting, be it remembered, was called to sympathise with Vallandigham, denounce the Lincoln dynasty, proclaim for free speech and free press, and blow the Democratic horn generally. The Herald said at the time that it was the largest meeting held in the city since the war commenced, and now adds that the demonstration is the "first note of civil war." This prediction, we devoutly trust, may be speedily fulfilled, for if there is any one thing in the world that we desire to see, it is civil war, with all its horrors, sweeping over the Northern States.—In the struggle now going on they inflict untold horrors upon us by their hellish brutality, and feel none of its horrors themselves, because their homes are far removed from the scene of conflict. We confess that we have but little confidence in the Democratic heaven in the North, but if God has reserved vials of wrath for any people more bitter than any scourge yet visited upon any part of the globe, we hope they will be speedily emptied on the people who are now devastating the South and polluting our homes.

But will the Yankees rebel against the tyranny of their master, that's the question? They are courageous and impudent in the struggle with us, for from the first they have relied upon their superior numbers and the assistance they are receiving from the gutters, sewers and Botany Bays of Europe to conquer us; and they have been clamorous for the "old flag" and zealous to "restore the Union" and perpetuate its blessings, (?) but have they the nerve to remove the yoke which the Washington usurpers have placed [illegible] have, for Lincoln has the purse and the sword; the people are disarmed and helpless, and though there may be [illegible] manner in which the war has been waged, and some who were opposed to it upon any terms, we do not believe that any revolution is to take place among our enemies that will dethrone Lincoln or stop the war being waged upon the South.

As to Valandigham, we are perfectly indifferent as to what the Yankee despotism may do with him, so he be not sent South. We protest against that and think he should not be allowed to remain if sent; for his appeals for Union and declarations in favor of restoring the old order of things, after we have fought two years and sacrificed hundreds of thousands of men and hundreds of millions of property for a separate existence, is as insulting and objectionable as anything that Lincoln could do or say. His appeals for freedom at the North, and denunciations of usurpers at the North does us no good, as long as he goes with the usurper, Lincoln, for our enslavement; and in asking us to resume the relations and associations we have thrown off, he does nothing else. No, Burnside may send him to Tortugas, Fort Warren or anywhere else, and we'll make no complaint, so he only keeps him away from us. He is no sympathiser of ours and we want none of him. And then, remembering how our Southern people made themselves fools over Kossuth, Meagher, John Mitchell and others, we are tired of such farces as the toadying, fawning snobs, who compose a part of our community, would get up over this Yankee martyr.

Let the Yankees only get up a civil war among themselves and remove war from us, and we shall be the happiest wretch in the Confederacy. Speed on the work, Mr. Bennett. We glory in your spunk. Satan can find no better work for you to do than excite the Yankees to cut each others throats.

OUR UNIVERSITY.—We have received a "Catalogue of the Trustees, Faculty and Students of the University of North Carolina," for 1862-'63, and from it we see that the number of students in attendance the present session is only seventy-one. The University, like everything else, feels the shock of war, and the noble youths, the flower and promise of the South, who were but recently the recipients of its benefits are now bearing their breasts to the thrusts of a hated invader of their homes. The Annual Commencement is on the first Thursday in June, and the Sermon before the graduating class will be preached by the Rev. W. H. McGuffey, of the University of Virginia.

We trust that before another year shall have rolled around the patriotic youths who left the classic shades of the University for the field of carnage, blood and death, may be permitted to return to their studies under the flag consecrated by the blood of our martyrs, and that, peace being restored, it may continue to wave over an independent, great and prosperous people.

Mr. Bradly, of the Southern Express Company, presented us with a fine, large, sweet orange, on Saturday last, the first that we have seen for a long time. And speaking of fruit reminds us that this thing of being cut off from Yankee ice is not the most pleasant thing in the world, in these hot times. Juleps without ice are rather flat to say the least of it. But we must hope for better times and better things. The war will not last always, and when it does close we'll have a rousing old time generally.

Yesterday, Provost Marshal Walker, received a deserter from the 11th Pennsylvania Cavalry, named David B. Hamilton, who was sent up by Major Gen. French from Suffolk. He says he left the army because he finds that the objects of the war are not those which he enlisted to sustain, viz: the Constitution and the Union; is tired of fighting for the "nigger," as are thousands of the Yankee army. He estimates the Yankee force at Suffolk at 25,000 or 30,000. He is a Kentuckian by birth.

In the commercial summary of the Examiner, of Saturday, we see that N. C. six per cent. bonds are quoted at 175, and eight per cent bonds at 132.

Names of North Carolinians Buried on the Field of Antietam.

The New York Herald, of the 29th of March, received by Capt. Elliott's canal line, gives a long list of the names of Confederate and Federal soldiers buried on the battle field of Antiefam, Md., prepared by James F. King, of New York, who visited the field to look for the body of a friend. In this list we find the following from this State:

MORE CONFLICT.—The Conscript bureau, at Richmond, does not seem to have much regard for the decisions of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. The Wilmington Journal says:

Judge Pearson of this State having decided that parties furnishing substitutes over thirty-five years, when the conscription only extended to that age, do not become liable themselves on account of their substitutes becoming liable under a subsequent call, we are authorized to state that the Confederate authorities do not regard Judge Pearson's opinion as authority, and that persons who have obtained substitutes, but subsequently become liable through the liability of the substitutes, will be required either to enter the army or procure new substitutes over the age of the present call.

UNCLE ABE'S VERY LATEST JOKE.—During the past week a gentleman called upon the President and solicited a pass for Richmond. "Well, said the President, I would be very happy to oblige you, if my passes were respected; but the fact is, sir, I have, within the past two years, given passes to two hundred and fifty thousand men to go to Richmond, and not one has got there yet." The applicant quietly and very respectfully withdrew on his tip-toes.

YANKEE ADVANCE ON KINSTON!

OUR FORCES SURPRISED AND ROUTED! [illegible] DRIVE THE ENEMY BACK! EXCITEMENT IN KINSTON!

OUR KILLED AND WOUNDED, ETC., ETC.

The following letters from our attentive correspondents give all the particulars of the advance on Kinston, received up to this time:

[From our Own Correspondent.]

KINSTON, May 22d, 1863, 4 p. m.

EDITOR PROGRESS:—Our town is in great excitement. The Yankees are advancing. A skirmish occurred this morning at Gum Swamp, and the Yankees succeeded in taking our works. Only a small part of our forces were engaged. They fell back to Cobb's Mills, four miles from town, where they were reinforced by our entire force. The 56th Regiment was cut off and part of the 25th, and it was reported here that they were captured and the greatest excitement prevailed, but later intelligence says that the greater part have succeeded in making good their escape. The wildest excitement prevails, and in the hurry and confusion it is almost impossible to get at the truth, but the above is about correct up to this hour.

5 o'clock, p. m.—All the troops of the 25th Regiment have come in, and there are but four companies now missing of the 56th Regiment, and they are supposed not to be captured, as they are still coming in. Our citizens seem to be confident that our forces will be able to repel the Yankees.

6 o'clock, p. m.—Both the Surgeons of the 56th Regiment have been captured and are now prisoners. Our loss is not known at this time. Only two wounded have been brought in.

7 o'clock.—The Yankees are falling back, and our forces are after them. It is supposed by some that the two surgeons thought to be captured may be with those of the 56th now missing.

Adjutant Hale, of the 56th, lost his arm and is now a prisoner. He was from Fayetteville. I learn that a company of our men have crossed the river and are coming up on this side, supposed to be part of the 56th. MERCURY.

[From our Own Correspondent.]

GOLDSBORO', May 22d, 1863.

MR. J. L. PENNINGTON:—Dear Sir:—It is rumored here and at Kinston, that the Yankees are again advancing. I saw some gentlemen from Kinston this morning, who say that the troops around Kinston are in motion, and that heavy cannonading was going on below that place early this morning, and continued until the train left. The report of cannon was also distinctly heard at this place up to three o'clock this evening. I think there can be but little doubt that fighting is going on below Kinston.

Yours, &c., X.

[From our Own Correspondent.]

GOLDSBORO', May 23d, 1863.

MR. J. L. PENNINGTON:—Dear Sir:—The rumor of a fight below Kinston yesterday is confirmed today. Eight of the wounded arrived here this morning. I learn that the fight commenced at or near Gum Swamp, some ten miles below Kinston, and continued all day. The 56th and the 25th Regiments, Ransom's Brigade, were the principal forces engaged and were attacked and flanked by about five regiments of the Yankees, when they scattered, and it was feared that nearly all of them had been taken prisoners by the Yankees, but I understand all of them, save one hundred and fifty, arrived at Kinston last night. Gen. Ransom himself came very near being killed or captured. I understand the Yankees advanced to Wise's Fork, which is within four miles of Kinston, but our troops being reinforced by Cook's Brigade they were driven back to Core Creek, and Gen. Hill was still in pursuit at a late hour last night. Lieut. Ray, of Orange county, is reported killed. Most of the accounts from there are vague and unsatisfactory—one account says the Yankees were in force, twenty thousand strong, another that it was not so large, another that a section of Starr's battery was captured, another that the battery was not there. We lost one wagon load of ordnance stores which was captured by the Yankees. Firing has been heard in that direction to-day and it is supposed that the fight is still going on. Yours, &c., X.

From Pettigrew's Brigade.

[From our Own Correspondent.]

HANOVER JUNCTION, VA., May 20th, 1863.

MR. EDITOR:—All is quiet along our lines in this direction, and is likely to continue so, as Halleck has countermanded Hooker's order for an advance. The Yankees, however, are in an awful dilemma—to advance is certain destruction, to lie idle on the hills of Stafford is wasting their strength and demoralizing. Some say there are frequent allusions to peace, but they cry peace! peace!! when there is no peace. It is perfectly idle to talk of peace yet, and much more silly for any one to indulge the idea that the Confederate States can be starved into submission to the hated Washington despotism. So long as our people are true to their cause and recognize the power of Omnipotence, there will not be found in our vocabulary any such words as starvation, failure, subjugation.

Then let our farmers produce all the corn, wheat, oats, peas and potatoes they possibly can, and have an eye to hogs, beef cattle, and sheep.

Let those at home, who are unable to undergo the exposure of the field or who are afraid to get into the army from their terror of Yankee balls, see to it that the families of soldiers do not suffer, and all your long faced street corner loafers may hush their sighs, gather up thirty-two inches of their faces and go to work, for "we'll not be whipped nor starved!"

One word of advice to your speculators. As we think it is not intended that we—I mean the soldiers—will all be killed before the end of the war; as we are men that know as well how to maintain individual as national rights; and as many of us have families at home who are in very limited circumstances because speculation has placed all the necessaries of life at such high prices that our families have been unable to procure in many cases a scanty subsistance; and as the war will soon end, they—the "Specs"—had better "about face" and pay some attention to the poor families of our soldiers, or they may find that hickory limbs and hemp in the hands of men who have defied the carnage of a hundred battle fields, are unpleasant weapons.

Send along the Progress as I have not seen it for several days and cannot dispense with so pleasant a companion. As ever, NORTH STATE.

LIST OF KILLED AND WOUNDED.

To-day we add another regiment to the long list we have already published as participating in the recent battles on the Rappahannock. This is a total of twenty-one regiments and one battalion we have already given, and yet there are more to come. North Carolina has not suffered as severely in any previous battle, in killed and wounded, as at Chancellorsville and Fredericksburg:

SOL. R. HENSLEY, Adj't 16th N. C. T.

[COMMUNICATED.]

The late Col. J. C. S. McDowell.

It is due to the memory of this gallant soldier and noble hearted gentleman, who sacrificed his life for his country, that something more than a paragraph in the "list of killed and wounded" should record his sad fate.

Descended from some of the best blood of the American Revolution, he inherited in a remarkable degree, those traits of personal bravery and kindness of heart for which his ancestors were so greatly distinguished.

He was the grandson of Col. Charles McDowell, of Burke county, who with Campbell, Cleaveland, Shelby and Sevier, gained that great victory over the British in the Battle of King's Mountain.

In our historic annals it is related that "The McDowell's were all brave men. Joseph and William, the brothers of Charles, were with him in the Battle on King's Mountain. Their mother, Ellen McDowell, was a woman of remarkable energy. On one occasion some tory marauders carried off some property during the absence of her husband. She assembled some of her neighbors, started in pursuit and recovered the property. When her husband was secretly making gunpowder in a cave, she burned the charcoal for the purpose, upon her own hearth and carried it to him. Some of the gunpowder, thus manufactured, was used in the Battle on King's Mountain."

The subject of this sketch was the son of Capt. Charles McDowell, of "Quaker Meadows," on the Catawba, near Morgantown, the only brother of the wife of Chief Justice Pearson and the wives of Messrs. N. W. and J. W. Woodfin, of Ashville.

He inherited from his father his fine ancestral estate and settled on it as a farmer. He married Julia, a daughter of Ex-Governor Chas. Manly, and left four infant children.

On the first breaking out of the war with the Northern Abolitionists he assisted in raising a company from Burke county, and was appointed a Lieutenant. He was in the First Regiment, of N. C. Troops, in the first distinguished Battle of Bethel.

On the reorganization of State Troops whose term of service had expired, he returned to his home, and very soon raised another company of Volunteers of which he was elected Captain, and tendered them to the Government. In the formation of the 54th Regiment he was elected Lieut. Colonel, and on the resignation of Col. Wimbish was elected Col. Commandant of that Regiment.

From that time to the last sad fight on the Rappahannock, he was in active service, participating in most of those hotly contested battles from Yorktown to Fredericksburg, and was commended specially by Brig. Gen. Hood in public Brigade Orders, for his skill and gallantry in leading up his regiment and sustaining it in the first Battle of Fredericksburg.

In the second Battle of Fredericksburg, on Monday the 4th of May, just before night-fall, while making the last charge on Marye's Heights, in the lead of his men, encouraging them to advance by word and action, he was shot down, a rifle ball penetrating his face just below the cheek bone and passing through the neck.

He lay on the ground weltering in his blood all night, and was removed the next morning to a hospital where he lingered in a state of unconsciousness until Friday, the 8th, when he died.

Dr. D. C. Manly, his brother-in-law, went immediately to his relief on hearing that he was wounded, and brought his body to this city.

Col. McDowell was 32 years of age, upwards of six feet high, of very handsome features, and of soldierly and courteous bearing.

Idolized by the officers and men of his regiment, popular at home, specially beloved by the poor in his neighborhood, he is gone.

Truly it was a great sacrifice. Over his heart-broken wife and helpless children we draw a veil and close the picture.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Samuel Oliver Hyman.

Among the young men killed at the Battle of Fredericksburg on Sunday, 3d of May, from Newbern, N. C., Oliver Hyman, of Company K, Second Regiment, N. C. State Troops, Ransom's Brigade. He was among the first to enter the service, and from the time of taking possession of Fort Macon in 1861, by the order of Gov. Ellis, to the day of his death, was never censured for dereliction of duty, but on the contrary won the esteem and approbation of his commanding officers and the love of his company and all who knew him. He fought bravely and died nobly, leaving numerous relatives to mourn his untimely end, particularly two orphan sisters, who having lost their property by the fall of Newbern, looked to this affectionate brother as their chief dependence and support.

"May he rest in peace," is the prayer of one who loved him as a son, and who had more opportunities than others of knowing his excellent traits of character.

For Congress.—CAPTAIN WM. J. HOUSTON requests us to say, in reply to the numerous applications, both in and out of the army, received by him to become a candidate to represent the people of the 3d Congressional District of North Carolina, in the next Congress of the Confederate States, that if selected for that responsible position by the people, he will endeavor to discharge its duties with fidelity, and with the view to promote the independence, success and prosperity of the Confederate States. He avails himself of this means of communication, because the rapid movement of our armies and the consequent interrupted mail facilities render it difficult for him to answer his friends in a different manner.
